Nicola Hardman is a theatrical alt-pop singer-songwriter originally from Liverpool, noted by reviewers ‘Get Into This’ for her “kooky avant-garde-ness..her assured voice recalling Regina Spektor or Amanda Palmer at times”

Hardman released her second album ‘Celestial Firebird’ March 2020 featuring singles ‘Be Kind’ and ‘Forever (and ever)’ which have received air play on local radio stations and toured (UK) whilst supporting award winning Canadian artist Jane Siberry.

Previously, Hardman’s work includes her double single release comprising of tracks ‘Just Human’ Hardman’s political contribution to abolish nationalism and promote equality, and her much loved theatrical song ‘Little Fish’ re-released from her debut album Full Beans (2015) “Hardman seems to break some new and unexpected ground - if that is even possible for an artist this versatile.” (Liverpool Acoustic)
